Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children of Monmouth County

94.3 The Point Pays It Forward at CASA for Children of Monmouth County

Eatontown, NJ—Matt Ryan of 94.3 The Point came to CASA for Children of Monmouth County's office on September 19th as part of his radio station's Pay It Forward initiative. After learning about the need and the services provided by CASA, he volunteered for two hours with the organization. He used his disc jockey skills by making phone calls to prospective CASA volunteers and ensuring that their applications were complete and ready to be submitted and processed in preparation for the organization's fall volunteer screenings.

Later that day Matt Ryan went back to his normally scheduled disc jockey job at 94.3 The Point and spoke on air about the importance of the work CASA does within Monmouth County. Matt Ryan's volunteering is one example of how everyone in the community can get involved. About CASA for Children of Monmouth County:

CASA for Children of Monmouth County is part of a nationwide network of community-based, non-profit programs that recruit, screen, train and supervise volunteers to "Speak Up for a Child" removed from home due to abuse or neglect. CASA is the only program in New Jersey that uses trained volunteers to work one-on-one with children, ensuring that each one gets the services needed and achieves permanency in a safe, nurturing home.
